

Words by JRR Tolkien

The Song of Moria

From the Lord of The Rings

Music by Daniel Froehling

Tenor

The world was young the moun - tains green. No stain yet on Un - wear - ied then we - re Dur - ins folk. Be - neath the moun -
 The world is grey, the moun - tains old. The forg - e's fire

Tenor

The world was young the moun - tains green. No stain yet on Un - wear - ied then we - re Dur - ins folk. Be - neath the moun -
 The world is grey, the moun - tains old. The forg - e's fire

Baritone

The world was young the moun - tains green. No stain yet on Un - wear - ied then we - re Dur - ins folk. Be - neath the moun -
 The world is grey, the moun - tains old. The forg - e's fire

Bass

The world was young the moun - tains green. No stain yet on Un - wear - ied then we - re Dur - ins folk. Be - neath the moun -
 The world is grey, the moun - tains old. The forg - e's fire

T.

the world was seen. No words were laid on stream or stone tains mu - sic woke. The harpers harped the wrung, min - strels they sang is ash - en cold. No harp is wrung, no ham - mer falls;

T.

the world was seen. No words were laid on stream or stone
 tains mu - sic woke. The harpers harped the wrung, min - strels they sang is ash - en cold. No harp is wrung, no ham - mer falls;

Bar.

the world was seen. No words were laid on stream or stone.
 tains mu - sic woke. The harpers harped, the min - strels they sang.
 is ash - en cold. No harp is wrung, no ham - mer falls;

B.

the world was seen. No words were laid on stream or stone.
 tains mu - sic woke. The harpers harped the min - strels they sang.
 is ash - en cold. No harp is wrung, no ham - mer falls;

1. 2.

T.

Ah in Dur - in's Halls Hum

T.

Ah in Dur - in's Halls Hum

Bar.

When Dur - in woke and walked a - lone The Dar - k-ness falls in Dur - in's Halls Hum

B.

Ah In Dur - in's Halls Hum